17/12/2021

Subject

In line with our environmental guidelines, we will no longer be providing the electrical circuit diagrams for the iVario units in printed form.

This new approach was already communicated in April 2021 in the TI_2112.

General information

The new rule regarding paper circuit diagrams has been in effect from 13 December 2021.

The diagrams can be viewed in electronic form

- on the portal,
- in the Tech App,
- offline in the service parts catalogue

Exception: Printed circuit diagrams will still be provided with units intended for the North-American market. This printed circuit diagram corresponds to the valid standards.
