Due to changes in the approval process, the pump housing has been redesigned and will be available in new units and as a service part from August 2025. It is coloured beige for better visibility.

The black pump housing from the period August 2024 to July 2025 can still be used as the technical properties have not changed.

The pump housing from April 2020 to July 2024 should no longer be installed during servicing. However, active replacement is not necessary. If you have any questions, please contact your Service Manager.
